4th Sunday Ordinary Time

In this age, marked by so many seemingly interminable wars, by internal and social divisions that create mistrust and fear, St Francis continues to speak ... because his life points to the authentic source of peace...Peace with God, peace among human beings, and with creation are inseparable dimensions of a single call to universal reconciliation. Pope Leo to the Conference of Franciscan family

From Fr Doug

Dear Parishioners

The best commentary on the beatitudes is Jesus' own life. To be authentic to His own calling, Jesus gives up power and prestige to follow the way of the powerless and ignored. He is gentle with the kind of people that others write off as not worthy and insignificant. He mourns when He sees how so many choose to be blind when God visits them. He experiences hunger, not the hunger satisfied by bread but the hunger that can be satisfied only by doing what is right.

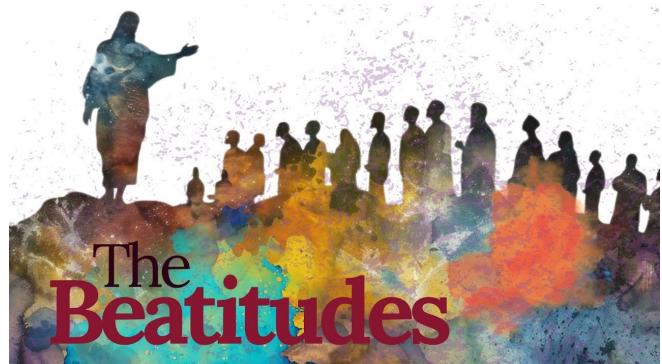

Jesus' preaching and teaching scandalises the religious authorities with His readiness to show mercy and forgiveness. Jesus is driven in His mission to make connection and peace between God and humanity.

In the end He is abused and persecuted in the cause of right and handed over to death. He ends up on another mount dying for what He believed in. Everyone has some experience of the cost of discipleship. Some will know what it is like to be accounted as weak or foolish because of their fidelity to Jesus.

But as Paul tells us, Christ is truly our wisdom and freedom. As Christians we are pledged to share that wisdom, especially the wisdom shown in the beatitudes.

Because they are the values Christ preached and lived – values He wishes to see in His disciples.

*With every blessing
Fr Doug*
